Dear Carol,

Are you confident your portfolio is working as hard as you do?

You're probably thinking about that point in life when you can start spending more time on what you want to do and less on what you have to do. But getting there means taking control of your finances – reevaluating and adjusting your investments as your career and family obligations change.

Let's get your portfolio to a better state.

As your registered State Farm® agent, I have the experience to help you revisit your financial goals, evaluate your investments and make sure your assets are allocated properly.

While State Farm is known for insurance policies to help protect your property, health, family and income, we also provide a variety of financial services. Look to us for Traditional and Roth IRAs, as well as annuities, CDs and a family of mutual funds. I'd be happy to go over all these options with you when we talk about your financial goals.

To figure out the combination that matches both your goals and your risk tolerance, I'd like to get together and develop a personalized Insurance and Financial Review.

Call me at today to schedule your complimentary Insurance and Financial Review.

Let's look for ways State Farm investment options can help your money work harder for you.

Sincerely,

Beth Stanton
